50 YEARS OLD | NILES, CALIFORNIA FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1938 | No. 25

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

"If you keep your mind young, you'll never really grow old."

The 79-year old co-ed who uttered those sage words, has really been living them as well. Last Friday, along with 374 other graduating seniors of San Jose State College, Mrs. Laura Bacon Bailey received the capstone of four years' work and study—an A. B. degree.

Life, said Pitkin, begins at forty. Here she marches forth with a brand-new diploma at 79. That's making Pitkin look like a piker!

Last December, prompted by the feelings of several local progressive spirits, we ventured to suggest that an improved Niles to Alvarado road would make a splendid objective for 1938 and a most acceptable gift at next Christmas time.

This stretch of highway now is being rebuilt and we echo the words of D. R. Rees to Supervisor Hellwig which we chanced to overhear this week. We, too, are accustomed to howl longer and louder before we get the improvements we think the township should have.

What's the idea? 1938 still has six months to run before it brings us another Christmas.

Thanks for the improved road, Mr. Hellwig.

Fewer hours in the early evening for softball, golf, tennis and daylight chores—in a scant few months it will again be dark when the average business man counts the cash in the till (if any) and wends his way homeward.

Tuesday, June 21—was the longest day in the year and now the days will continue to get shorter until December 21.

For, after a couple of days of rest, the sun has started off across the Zodiac to the House of Capricorn far to the south.

Bouquets—the nice, fragrant kind—are falling on the Niles Rotary Club thick and fast. In advance of the International convention concluding at San Francisco today, District Governor Allison Ware wrote the club that Niles' 100 percent registration for the big event was "just in line with the splendid performance of the club during the whole year."

He added that the picture postcard showing the huge road sign erected at the Hotel Belvoir entrance (1,000 of which were printed and distributed by the club) was much appreciated. The big wheel was given a place in the district booth at the Rotary Conference where it shone "like a good deed in a naughty world.'

Bachelors have more of what it takes to play softball—or maybe they just naturally are able to run faster. Anyhow, when the dust blew away the single men were out in front of a 17 to 10 score after a seven inning contest among members of Native Sons of Centerville.

The skirmish took place at Linda Vista Park at Mission San Jose Thursday of last week. About 75 were present for the feed n'everything.

Queen of Gypsy Camp Lies in State Until Rites on Monday Pending Arrival of Relatives

CENTERVILLE—A colorful procession went in and out of the Chapel of the Palms last Monday morning as the gypsies from the camp on the Patterson ranch came to pay respects to Mary George, 72, queen of the camp, who passed away Friday night.

The body was held at the chapel until Tuesday morning when it was taken to the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery at Hayward where it was placed in a receiving vault pending funeral services next Monday. Ceremonies were postponed until relatives arrived from New York and will be directed by a priest of the Catholic church. Intemrent will be at the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Wails of the old folks mingled with the cry of the children as the gypsy men and their families came to lay flowers beside the casket. It was the first experience of death many of them had known, the older folk said. Some wanted the deceased to lie in state in the camp but others objected because of superstition.

No previous illness indicated that Mary George was to die. Only a few days ago she joined the circle for morning coffee about the campfire and the evening dances when the gypsy women and girls in their multi-colored, flowing dresses and jingling ear-rings dance to the music furnished by the singing of the men folk.

Surviving are the husband, Stephen, and six children, Leo, Frank, Joseph, Emil, Rosie and Lena. As to grandchildren—"plenty—maybe 35—maybe 100," it was said.

The gypsy camp numbers about 75, a part of the 5,000 said to be in California, most of whom are itinerant fruit workers. Mary George was born in Spain and came to this country when a young girl. She has traveled in practically every state in the union, relatives said.

Specialists Show Bee Keeping And Scientific Dairy Feeding Profitable on Township Farms

CENTERVILLE —Bee keeping and scientific dairy feeding were discussed at this week's meeting of the Washington-Eden Farm Center at the Washington Union High School. Director Paul Dougherty presided and refreshments were served following the meeting.

It was decided not to meet in July and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for representation of the center at the county fair in Pleasanton in August. The committee consists of C. J. Burr of the California Nursery Company, Anthony Silva, William Bond, James Nunes and Mrs. Joe Williams. All farmers who have products to display for premiums should contact the above committee.

J. Floyd Perry, chairman of the Castro Valley Farm Center, was present and spoke in very complimentary terms of the reputation which the Washington-Eden center is establishing as one of the outstanding centers in California.

Pete Myers, assistant county farm adviser, reported on the recent 4-H Camp and said that 1500 meals had been served at a cost of 15 cents each, that 780 of the $150 appropriated by the Farm Bureau had been turned back to the bureau. An average of 154 persons were served at each meal.

Joe Shinn, Jr., reported that 418 had signed for the apricot pro-rate and that a few more signatures were necessary to establish the necessary majority to insure success of the program.

G. E. Gordon, dairy specialist for the Extension Department of the University of California, discussed dairy feeding and distributed pamphlets showing ingredients of proper feed. He said that 50 per cent of the cost of dairying was in the feed and that a dairyman's best insurance was in proper feeding. A cow's value depends upon how much feed she can consume above that necessary for body maintenance. He stressed the importance of the use of molasses, dried fruit, cottonseed meal and peanut and fish meal as well as barley, corn and other products.

Cary W. Hartman, county bee inspector, gave an interesting and humorous account of the bee business. He showed motion pictures depicting construction of hives and methods of bee keeping.

After being on the public lecture platform for 25 years, Hartman, formerly of Ohio, retired and came to California at the age of 60. He was "lonely and lost" without his public speaking and bought a colony of bees because he liked "to see them fly and hear them hum."

Experience has taught him, he said, that bee keeping is one of the most profitable agricultural industries, considering the amount of money involved.

Honey-making is one of the oldest agricultural projects known. It is mentioned many times in the Bible. It is practised in every State in the union. Bees are not subject to tax in Alameda County but must be registered each March at the County Court House.

Four thousand colonies of bees were registered in Alameda County this year. Many bee keepers are migratory, following the nectar-giving crops over the State. Six thousand migratory colonies were in the county this Spring.

A good queen will lay from 2,000 to 3,000 eggs per day, said Hartman. "You can't say the same for chickens or cows." Bees must be constantly replaced as they live only about six weeks during the working season. A bee hive is an example of a perfect "cooperative."

The bee keeper may expect five crops—eucalyptus, sage, alfalfa, lima beans, cotton or star thistle.

NOW IS THE TIME

Hundreds of thousands of youngsters pour forth from the classrooms this month, some to hunt work, and others to frolic the summer long under the beneficent California sun.

Parents can be justly grateful for the abundance of open country in California, the sweeping landscapes, the clean air of the mountains and sea. The dark blight of over-crowded cities of the industrial East where children s recreation grounds are all too often nothing but sidewalks and crowded streets, are thankfully far removed from these Western slopes. May they ever remain so!

But the blight of summertime's most common tragedy does strike us here in the West as in the East, and in too many California homes every year you will find new evidence to that fact.

"Death—by drowning" is again moving into the headlines as thousands of vacationing youngsters plunge lustily—and oftentimes ignorantly!—into the water for that cooling swim.

Now is the time for every youngster to learn to swim! Better that his parents undertake to see that he receives insruction than leave him to be egged on by his scornful playmates into risking his life with a foolish display of bravery.

Summertime brings no 'rithmetic lessons, but every wise parent will see to it that summertime brings swimming lessons to every untrained youngster!

THE PRICE OF Liberty

A STERN PRICE was paid for this liberty which you enjoy in America. Your fathers bought it by fighting for it. The price they paid was struggle, hardship, and even blood. The price which you must pay if America is to remain a democracy and if liberty is to be passed on to generations of Americans yet unborn is unremitting watchfulness. You are unable, as an individual, to keep a constant personal watch on the actions and policies of those whom you have elected to govern you. You are unable, as an individual, to reach the ear of government with criticism, approbation, or suggestions for official conduct . . . but, in your newspaper, you have a representative who assumes the responsibility of civic watchfulness for you. You have a voice to which all must listen. No candidate, no official, no political leader can long survive under the constant scrutiny of a free press unless he performs his trust with competence and with honesty. Freedom of the press is your greatest assurance that America shall remain free. The welfare of your newspapers is your welfare and the welfare of American freedom.
